The following list of journals is representative of some of the most frequently cited periodicals in ancient Near Eastern history and archaeology. Basic publication information has been provided, along with information regarding electronic access through ATLA databases.

